PITTSBURG MINING CO. FINE CARBONATE VEIN

Morganfield Mining Company's Rich Find. Rail Road News from Across the River.

LEAD $63.00, THE HIGHEST IN TEN YEARS.

Joplin, Mo., Dec. 17.—The advent of a new ore buyer for the St. Louis Smelting and Refining Company gave the producers of lead ores in this district additional money for Christmas presents. The buyers went into the field this week and by Friday had purchased one lot of ore at $31.50 per 1,000 pounds, the highest price ever paid in this district for lead ore in ten years past. Indications now point to the same excited conditions arising in the lead market as has existed during the fall in the zinc ore market. With the demand for Missouri brands of pig lead, which has been manifested during the past sixty days, the price has steadily increased until $30.50 was paid recently for one immense lot of lead ore from the Ten O'Clock property near Webb City. That was thought to be the limit on lead ores in this district, since they carry no other values as do the lead ores produced in the West. Now, with the new buyers competing with the local smelters, for the production of this district, there is apparently reason to believe that the prices will go even higher, for the local smelters have the natural advantages in freights in their favor. The coming week, then, is expected to develop some interesting features in the lead ore markets. The general price last week was $58.

The zinc market has been of satisfactory strength. This week the top price paid for ore was $50 as against $49 paid last week. The assay basis has varied from $45 to $47 per ton, being unchanged during the fortnight. Last week's shipments of lead and zinc ore were the heaviest in value of the year, having even passed the previous week's record by $7,380. The zinc ore market is strong and in face of the present high prices for spelter which are ruling on the St. Louis market it is not believed that a marked decline will occur during the remainder of the present year. The first cold weather of the year has come, which may effect the production to some extent. The holiday season is also likely to reduce production, and as result these developments may reduce the tonnage produced, all of which will be of strengthening effect. Conditions throughout the district, therefore, are generally satisfactory, as the demand of properties and mining lands indicates. During the past week or ten days several small deals have been consummated, and on tract, including a portion of the 240 acres locally known as the Wilson and Wear tract, was sold to Byron Ash and James Luke of Carthage for $60,000. The Danville Lead and Zinc Company of Danville, Ill., has also taken over several properties in the vicinity of Joplin.

The Little Jim, on the Columbia vein, still keeps in very rich ore, and they are mining about 15 or 20 tons per day.

The Joplin lead ore market has touched $63 per ton, forced up by new buyers in the field. Zinc is still selling at $50; base price $35 to $47.

The Ky. Fluor Spar company is pushing its mines for all their worth now and is working some of them night and day to get a good supply of spar on hand before the roads get bad.

Our Carville correspondent writes: The main shaft in the Schoolfield-Spees mines has been sunk to the depth of 100 feet. After the timbers have been put in a drift will be begun. Not, however, till after the holidays.

We understand that Mr. W. C. Uren made an inspection of the Pittsburgh mine, owned by the Pittsburgh Mining company, on the widow Ebba Hodge farm, in the western part of this county last week and at the one hundred foot level he found it contained a fine vein of carbonate of zinc, 33 feet wide. This mine is 8 miles west of Marion. There is also a fine showing of fluor spar on the surface. Mr. F. B. Mooda, Lake City, Florida, is one of the stockholders.

The Louisville-Marion Mining Co. is sinking a new shaft at the mine on the White property. This shaft will come down on a large vein of fluor spar, at a depth of 20 feet, so Supt. Persons says.

The Columbia is running its mill every day and is turning out a large amount of lead and zinc. The lower level is much richer with mineral than the one above, showing richest body of ore is below. Half of the mineral in the bottom of the shaft will go 80 per cent metallic zinc, and if was not for the large per centage of lead that it carries it would not have to go to the mill at all but straight to the smelter.

The vein of carbonate struck by Bob King on the Morganfield Mining company's property at the old LaRue shaft, is showing up fine. It is a very high grade carbonate and it appears to run parallel with the LaRue vein. This will make property along the LaRue vein much more valuable. Those who already own property and have mines on the LaRue vein will get the benefit of this new carbonate vein. The lucky ones are the Big Four Mining Co., Morganfield Mining Co., Deer Creek Mining Co., Glendale Mining Co., and Commodore Mining Co., all of which are on the LaRue vein. This gives the Commodore people five different veins, as their property is located to catch some cross veins.

The vein of carbonate that was uncovered a week or ten days ago by the Pittsburgh Mining company is on the Ebba Hodge property, and runs parallel with the Marion Break vein, about 50 feet on the west side. It is reported that the vein is 38 feet wide and is solid carbonate. Most of the stockholders were here last week and visited the mines; they were all well pleased with the rich discovery of the immense vein of carbonate. The company held a meeting in Marion before they left and decided to put in new machinery as soon as the winter weather breaks and open up a number of places. It is also reported that the company intends to buy all the property that joins their mine along the same vein. It appears that the more work that is done the more discoveries are made, and is a strong proof that Western Kentucky is one of the richest lead and zinc fields in America. It is known the world wide it is the best fluor spar field in the world, both in quantity and quality, and the only one in America.

Mr. F. M. Barnard, Supt of the Pittsburgh Mining Co. was with us last week looking after their mining properties here, having with him Colonel Brown, an expert from Colorado Springs. They in company with H. D. Wolford visited many of our best mines, and of course they could not visit all, as the time was limited. After leaving Salem were driven out to the great Cullen mine. There meeting Mr. Hearne, President of Egle Fluor Spar company; were kindly shown through this large mill and were perfectly astonished, not thinking of seeing such machinery and such valuable ore in this country. From this place was driven to Riley mines; there he also found a large mill and a fine vein of lead and fluor spar. He was driven to Ebba Hodge mine; there it was his business to examine the vein thoroughly, as this belongs to the Pittsburgh Mining company. He was taken down the shaft 100 feet to see and examine the vein as it really was. There he reports extra fine vein of lead and zinc between solid walls, it being one among the richest veins in western Kentucky and far beyond his expectation. After getting through with this examination drove by the way of the Old Jim to the Columbia, there finding a large mill in operation, which seemed to be doing perfect work. After spending some time there as a visitor was then driven to Marion to take train to Pittsburgh, thanking the managers of these mines for their courtesies to them.

Mr. Miller said last evening he was much impressed with the Marion section as a whole. He has always felt there should be co-operation between labor and capital, he continued, but he had never seen any better illustration of the mutual dependence of these two forces of industry. If capital had half as much nerve and determination as was possessed by the muscle that was at work searching out the wealth of this mineral country, this would become one of the richest and most prosperous sections of the country.

Mr. Miller said, however, that he could see this country was sadly handicapped by lack of transportation facilities. It could not be developed right until freight could be transported. There should be a railway or turnpike. If either were constructed there would be marvelous development. Pending the construction there should by all means be a wagon road so the mines could get machinery cheaply, and get their product to the railroad all the year round. This is the crying need of this section, said Mr. Miller, and he expressed himself as being much disappointed that the road matter had been delayed too long to do much this season.

MINERAL LANDS FOR SALE.

I have about 4,000 acres of mineral land in Hardin and Pope counties, Ill., and claim to have 50 miles of fissure vein mineral in this holding, with 35 cross veins with about 100 open cuts and shafts down, with mineral showing in all of these.

I have the following mineral: Zinc, lead, fluor-spar, oxide of cobalt, manganese, nickel copper, silver and barytes.

The railroad company are now securing the right-of-way for a railroad through the heart of this mineral belt and say they are ready to begin building the road.

I know every vein of mineral in these two counties, and what they are and where the largest deposits are and am ready to serve all comers, and can sell you first-class mineral so cheap it will surprise you.

New Idea in Wire Fencing.

For some time we have been investigating a New Idea in Fencing. After a most careful examination we have been convinced that we have found the best fence made. Below we give some of the points of advantage which we claim for it.

IF YOU ARE LOOKING FOR A FENCE

That will stand HARD USAGE.
That will not SAG DOWN or CURL OVER on the top.
That has stays that WILL NOT SLIP.
That will CONFORM TO UNEVEN GROUND.
That has no SLACK WIRES.
That does not require an EXPERT to ERECT.
That is LOW IN PRICE.

THEN READ WHAT WE GUARANTEE!

1. The stays are ELECTRICALLY WELDED to strands forming a perfect union and an amalgamation with the strands not found in any other fence.
2. No wraps to get loose, or hold moisture and cause rust.
3. No projections to injure stock or tear wool from sheep.
4. Stronger at the joints than any other fence, welded together by electricity.
5. Guaranteed that the wire is not injured at the joints.
6. Guaranteed adjustable to uneven ground.
7. Guaranteed that stays will not separate from strands.
8. Guaranteed all right in every particular.
9. Made by the most modern process and on the latest machinery.
10. Most of the weak points in other fences are on account of the way the stays are fastened. Our stays are amalgamated with the strands by means of electricity and the strength of the fence increased a hundred fold over the strength of a fence where the stays are wrapped or clamped on the strands.

THE WELD THAT HELD

Don't fail to see us before buying your fencing. Don't put it off until you are ready to use it, but place your order in advance.

Don't Be Misled.

We have just received a car load of Pittsburg Perfect Wire Fence--every rod guaranteed, also a car of wire and nails. The prices on these goods have advanced, but if you will come in now we can sell you at old prices.

NURSED BY ROBBERS.

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 20.—Edward Morgan, the leader of the band of Yeggmen captured last evening, by the detectives, has been identified as James Johnson, alias Morgan, a notorious crackman who served three years in the Moundsville, West Virginia, penitentiary and who is now under indictment in North Carolina for robbing a post office.

His arrest in West Virginia followed the robbery of the Bramwell post office there in March '99. The indictment held against him by the North Carolina authorities charges him with robbing the post office at Plymouth in June 1898.

The identification was by the means of photograph No. 326, held by the United States post office authorities, showing Johnson, alias Morgan in convict garb when he was serving time in Moundsville prison.

Woven in with the report of the roundup of yeggmen, is the story of how several of the gang faithfully nursed a boy who was, unfortunately their associate, paid his doctor bills, and when he died sent his body to his parents in Alexandria, Va., and paid liberal for the expense of his final interment.

The boy, the detectives say, was picked up by the gang during one of its camping expeditions, and was being trained to be a "finder" or thieves parlance a "gay cat," generally the youngest member of the band, who scuds around the camp or village in which the bank is located.

Young Crump, the boy, while "finding" expedition contrab ted a cold, which developed into pneumonia. He died in a second story room of the saloon No. 700 South Carolina street which was raided by the police Friday morning.

Desperate as were the men surrounding him there was yet some gentleness left in them. At first the gang and their women nursed him, but when he grew worse, even at the risk of having some of their secrets betrayed, they called in a physician. The physician went to the rendezvous and prescribed for the boy, but both of the lad's lungs were affected and he died.

The members of the gang told the doctor that they would spend any amount of money to save the boy's life, and as an earnest to their promise they displayed rolls of bills.

Cripple Creek, Col., Dec.—In contest papers filed today Benjamin J. Coleman, Democratic candidate for County Judge, charges of bribery, fraud, intimidation, and premeditated assassination to carry the election in Peller county are made against the Citizens Alliance, the Mine Owners Association and the Republican Organization.

AN ADVENTUROUS BOY.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 20.—Harry McCoy, aged 16, of Columbus, O., son of Wm. McCoy, a traveling salesman, and who ran away from his home last June a year ago, arrived today as a stowaway aboard the British steamer Marina, from Glasgow, Scotland. McCoy was penniless and is being cared for at the Union Mission.

McCoy came overland from Columbus and sailed as a coal trimmer aboard the British steamer Hestia, and landed in Liverpool. The boy had visited England, Scotland, Wales and South America. He said that he had a hard time across the ocean and several exciting experiences at sea. At Cardiff McCoy stated that he saw much coal shipped for the Russian navy.

"I've had enough adventure to last me a lifetime," remarked McCoy, "I'm going home to stay."

The Marina had a rough voyage from Glasgow.

"DeWitt's is the only genuine witch hazel salve" writes J. L. Tucker, of Centre, Ala. "I have used it in my family for piles, cuts and burns for years and can recommend it to be the best salve on the market. Every family should keep it, as it is an invaluable household remedy, and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs. Samuel Gage, of North Bush, N. Y., says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures without leaving a scar. Sold by Woods & Orme.

FELL DEAD WHERE HE STOOD.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 17.—While playing "William Tell," Earnest Linn, aged fifteen, of Belmont, this afternoon missed the tin can balanced on the head of eight-year-old Sylvan Delote, and the charge from his shotgun tore the entire upper portion of Delote's head away, killing him instantly.

The boys have been very much interested in the drama of William Tell, which was being rehearsed as a school play for Christmas, and although none of the smaller boys were in the cast, the entire school was concerned over the rehearsals.

This afternoon in company with his older brother and two Rasmusen boys, Delote was playing on a vacant lot in Belmont when Linn came along with a shotgun.

"Let's play William Tell and let Earnest shoot an apple off Sylvan's head," cried one of the boys. No apple could be found and instead a tin can was put on young Delote's head, who was placed 20 feet away from Linn. Taking careful aim Linn fired, and Delote fell dead without even a moan. The can was untouched but the boy's head was blown into fragments.

"I guess I must have shot too quick," said Linn, when he saw the consequences of his act. No arrests have been made and none are expected. An inquest will be held.

WRINKLES FROM MILK WASH

Woman Who Eschewed Soap and Water Had Cause for Deep Regret.

A writer on beauty in one of the society papers urges her readers never to wash the face with soap and water, as being certain destruction to a fine complexion. I cannot indorse this view, writes Lady Greville, in London Graphic.

Cleanliness is absolutely necessary to the beauty and delicacy of the texture of the skin. If soap is not liked, at least oatmeal should take its place, and pure or distilled water invariably be used. I once saw the result of only washing the face with milk in a lady who started life with a good complexion, but before she reached middle age had lost all freshness, and showed a faded skin covered with fine wrinkles. Nothing equals the complexion of the country woman who rises early, is much in the open air, and bathes freely in cold water. The homely idea of washing in the dew of the morning as an aid to beauty is simply a practical way of expressing this fact.

ENGLISH SPARROW IN WEST

From Five Birds in 1874 They Have Spread All Over the Country.

The first English sparrows were brought to Kansas City in 1874, says the Topeka Herald.

F. W. Giles conceived the idea of importing some of these birds. He shipped in 28 of them. They were confined in cages at his place in Topeka until all but five had died. At last the five were turned loose to take their chances of life or death, though Giles had no hope that they would live. They fooled him.

They took up their home in the neighborhood. The following autumn there were 12 birds. The second summer found 60, and the third summer about 300. Then they increased so fast that no count could be kept, and in the 25 years which followed they spread all over the west.

To the Bright Girls of the Country.

The expenses for one year at a leading Southern college will be paid for a bright, worthy girl of Crittenden county, Kentucky, who will secure for me one hundred and fifteen subscribers to my book, "Lee and Longstreet at High Tide." The college expenses include board, books, tuition, laundry and incidentals.

For the double purpose of giving the truth of our civil war history, and of extending a helping hand to the struggling ambitious girls of the country, I am pleased to place a year at college within reach of a girl of this county who desires an education enough to exert herself a little. Should the girl availing herself of this opportunity prove particularly deserving, I pledge myself to the endeavor to open the way for her to complete the college course.

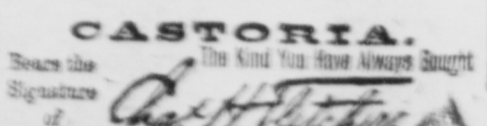

The girl who is interested in this offer should communicate with me at once, and her communication should be accompanied by the endorsement of her county School Commissioner, the editor of this paper and the teacher of the last school she attended.

I would be glad to communicate with every ambitious girl in the county who is struggling to educate herself.

JAPANESE ENJOY BATHING.

Take Baths Hot and Cold and Dispense with Anything Like Clothing.

From time immemorial the bathtub has been an honorable institution in Japan. Instead of a cold dip in the morning, the Japs take their baths hot in the afternoon, at about five o'clock, and, beginning at 100 degrees, the tendency is to raise the temperature as one becomes acclimatized, so to speak. One traveler, says the Chicago Inter Ocean, tells of the Kawayu bathers, who stay in the tub for several weeks at a time with stone in their laps to keep their bodies from floating while they are asleep.

The usual thing is to have the tub on the lawn with a charcoal fire beneath it, so that one can get into the water at 80 degrees and sit in it until it reaches 100 degrees. At this point a "griffin," which is to say a newchum, a greenhorn, or a tenderfoot, usually has to get out, for it becomes literally too hot for him. But, after a year or two of practice, he can manage 115 or 120 degrees. The Japs themselves can enjoy a bath even at 128 degrees.

A traveler tells an amusing tale of how he visited a Japanese friend on at home day and accepted the offer of a bath on the lawn. He got in when the water was tepid and enjoyed it immensely up to ninety something. Just as he was thinking of getting out his friend's wife and daughter put in an appearance and began to wash rice at a well near by. Now the regulation bathing dress of Japan is like a footless stocking without a leg, or a bungle without a barrel around it, and our traveler hadn't it with him at the time. He endured another five degrees, and then, with death by boiling staring him in the face, he was forced out with an involuntary yell that attracted much attention.

The fact is that in Japan everybody bathes in puris naturalibus. It is their way, and it is not until a European has lived among them for years that he or she realizes that, after all, there is nothing very terrible about it.

SPOONING ON THE FERRIES

New York River Boats Regular Sparking Places on Summer Evenings.

"Folks who burst forth periodically in letters to the editor and the park commissioner protesting against public love making in the parks," remarked the commuter, reports the New York Sun, "must not think that they have exhausted the subject until they have taken a few late evening ferryboat sails on these summer nights. If all the energy that's used up in squeezing hands and pressing lips on the open upper decks could be converted into horse power and transferred to the engine rooms, some of the ancient tubs that ply the two rivers and the upper bay could make their runs in half schedule time—unless the boilers burst.

"For long sustained efforts in the cooling line the young men and women of Hoboken and the nearby villages up on Union hill probably hold the record. They go to Coney island in pairs and sit on the beach or hold hands under a table in one of the concert halls while they operate the beer glasses with the hands that are free.

"Then there is the long ride to the bridge on the trolley car, with arms about waists every mile, with his head on her shoulder until the second fare point is reached, and her head on his shoulder the rest of the way. From the bridge there is a quick-no-time-to-lose run, hand in hand, to the Barclay street ferry.

"And then the race of all the couples up the stairs to get the most secluded nooks on the deck. Fine spots for spooning provided free on ferryboats these warm nights."

TRAILED WITH BLOODHOUNDS

Dayton, O., Dec 16.—The two bloodhounds, Jesse James and Sir George, belonging to Elmer McGuire and Jesse Woodward of this city, were taken this afternoon to West Carrollton, where the post office had been robbed.

Shortly after the arrival of the dogs they proceeded to locate a trail which they followed through a winding course to Miamasburg, where it terminated at the house occupied by John Kniesly and Al Mullen and two women, who occupies the lower portion, were absent. It was later learned, that he had gone to a nearby drug store where he purchased some alcohol and other remedies for his finger, which was badly cut, the police believe by breaking the glass in the door of the post office.

Kniesly was in an upstairs room and when he found that the dog had followed the trail to his residence jumped from the second story window and fled across the country, a distance of a mile. He was finally apprehended, however, by chief of police Louis Zimmerman of Miamasburg. Upon hearing of Kniesly's arrest Mullen boarded a traction car and went to Franklin. The trail was lost here but Lebanon authorities were notified and are in pursuit.

BACHELORS TO BETAXED.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec 16.—Henry Elza Agar, Representative elect from Gibson county, has three reforms which he proposes to push vigorously during the coming session of the Legislature. He believes that men should marry and to encourage them he proposes to introduce a bill levying a tax of ten cents on each one hundred dollars salary earned by able bodied bachelors over thirty five years old, who receive an income of over one thousand dollars annually.

He would apply ten per cent of this revenue to school fund and ninety per cent to the maintenance of the various homes for Orphans in the State. He also favors a bill to prevent any man from "setting them up" in a barroom. Treating he regards as a pernicious habit and he proposes a law providing a fine of from five to fifty dollars for the first offense and from ten to one hundred dollars for the second.

He wants screens removed from all bars and it is probable that he will introduce a bill prohibiting any man from voting who can not show a receipt for his poll tax. He intends to push these measures in the Legislature.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT—$1.00

Russia has recently granted some important reforms to the peasants though rioting still continues in St. Petersburg.

Sailing in battle array forty Japanese warships are on their way to meet the Russian squadron and we may look for one of the biggest naval engagements of modern times.

Mrs. Mary Bailey was nominated last Saturday, in a primary in Webster county, for school superintendent. Those who know her speak in the highest terms of praise of her.

Brooding over his inability to purchase the usual Christmas gifts for his family Jas. Clift, aged 35, of Evansville, Ind., killed himself with carbolic acid. He drove a delivery wagon and had lost his job; but we doubt whether he mended matters with the acid.

In passing its first appropriation bill this session the House was very emphatic in its opposition to any increase in salary of Government employes. This is certainly a move in the right direction.

In his letter this week our esteemed Tolu correspondent suggests his neighbor, A. J. Bennett, as good legislative timber. This is correct. Mr. Bennett is a good man, a successful farmer, and should be ever be chosen to represent us he would prove an honor to his county.

It seems that Christmas presents of edibles should be carefully tested before being indulged in.
The other day a Princeton, N. J., man received as a Christmas present from an unknown party a plug of tobacco filled with a cough-arsenic and Paris green to kill an elephant. The deadly nature of the present was discovered just as he was in the act of taking a chew
from it.

The Maroon trial still drags along at Winchester. The regular session is drawing to a close, but Judge Benton said he would extend the term through January if it was necessary to close the case.
Some sensational statements developed through the prosecuting witnesses. On the stand Judge James Hargis denied these statements and the impression seems to be that defendant's line of defense will be a general denial of every allegation brought against them by the prosecution.

In pursuance of a time-honored custom no paper will be issued from this office next week, and the employes will become the guests of Santa Claus. Dear old Santa Claus! an embodied, tangible spirit of hope and delightful expectation to the young and a sad though pleasant memory to the aged. May the benison of peace rest upon the homes of our readers during the coming yuletide, and may contentment, good cheer and happiness mark each moment of its flight.

Commercial Club Chronicle.

Tuesday evening last the first regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Club was held in the office of Dr. Frazer. After transacting the regular business, including the necessary arrangements for the first Annual Banquet, to be given under the auspices of the Club on New Year Evening, the meeting adjourned and the officers and Directors, together with some of the Club members went as a body before the City Council. Two propositions were submitted to the Mayor and Council by Messrs C. S. Nunn and Dr.
Frazer, who were delegated as spokesmen for the Club.

Mr. Nunn requested an appropriation by the council of a sum for the purpose of employing a competent engineer to draft plans and specifications for a waterworks system. Mr. Nunn submitted to the members of the council a comprehensive plan for raising the necessary funds for establishing waterworks for Marion, and also expressed the intention of the Club to assist in making a sale of the franchise for at least enough to reimburse the city's treasury for the amount expended in employing an engineer. The appropriation was readily granted by the council, upon the terms of the Club's request, and councilmen T.
J. Yardell and R. F. Haynes were named by the Mayor as a committee to confer and act with the Club's committee, composed of Messrs C. S. Nunn, J. M. Freeman and Jas. E. Chittenden, in securing the desired services. The plan of the Club to raise the necessary funds will be made public in a later issue of the Press.

Dr. Frazer asked the Mayor and his Councilmen to act with the club in securing some means of safeguarding the railroad crossings at the important points within the city limits. The Club's sentiments were ably presented by Dr. Frazer, and the Mayor named Leri Cook, Lewis Clifton and W.
H. Cochran, members of the council, to act in conjunction with the Club's committee in securing a meeting with railroad officials.
President Cochran, of the Commercial Club, named C. S. Nunn, Dr. T. A. Frazer and C. H. Whitehouse as his committee.

The Club Directory have several other important matters in hand,

all of which will be reported and fully discussed at the first regular meeting of the Club, which will be held in the post office building
hall on Tuesday evening of next week at 7 o'clock. It is also hoped by that time to have the Constitution and By-Laws ready for delivery to the members of the Club.
The membership cards are being distributed to those who have paid their fee and dues.

It is impossible in these articles to keep pace with the rapid forward movement and progress of the Club, and the full membership should be in attendance at our next meeting.

Commercial Club's First Banquet.

A banquet will be given by the Commercial Club on New Year's eve, or 8 o'clock p. m. Definite arrangements have not as yet been made for a building suitable for the purpose, but this matter is in the hands of the Entertainment, Arrangement and Building Committee, whose members are fully equal to the occasion.

Arrangements have progressed sufficiently to insure an enjoyable feast, for both the palate and mind of the Club's members and of invited guests. Many men of prominence and influence will be invited and in all probability will lend the pleasure of their presence and make addresses suitable to the occasion and in the interest of our district.

In order to make the banquet a complete success and answer the purpose for which it is to be given. It is just as desirable and quite as essential that the business men of our city and the representative residents of our county and district be present to enjoy this feast and hear the addresses which will be delivered and essays which will be prepared and read.

We forecast a memorable and enjoyable affair and feel that this first banquet of the Club should be as great a success as it would if the Club was the result of many years of growth.

McCONNELL-SCOTT.

The Rev. R. T. McConnell, pastor of the M. E. church, South, at Tolu, was married to Miss Clement Scott, at the bride's home near Kuttawa, last Wednesday evening by Rev. A. J. Thompson.
The bride is a fine young woman and is a daughter of Wm. Scott, a substantial farmer of Lyon county. The Rev. Mc-Connell is well known and is connected with many of our best people, being a brother of Mrs. A. J. Pickens, Mrs. Bal-lie Clement and T. J. McConnell, all of this city; Dr. McConnell, of Mundy (Grover) John and Wm. McConnell, also of this section. His first wife was Miss Rose Carter, who died two years ago, leaving several children, all of whom have been here with relatives.

Rev. McConnell is a gentleman of high character and his friends are congratulating him, wishing the couple much joy all along life's pathway.

Williams-Wilborn

Twenty-three years ago Rev. J. H.
Henry was called on to marry Thos. E.
Williams to Miss Belle Crow, daughter of our esteemed citizen, W. H. Crow.
J. L. Rankin was the best friend and on-dorse for Mr. Williams on that occasion.
Last Wednesday Mr. Frank Williams, of the Ford's Ferry vicinity, came to town and asked Mr. Rankin to go with

If you will only read your Daily Reading carefully, meditate upon them, endeavor to fix the topics in your mind, and associate the matter of the Daily Readings with the topics, in six months time you could have the principal facts and events in the life of Christ firmly planted in your mind. A daily review of the topics you have read will help you very much to keep them in mind. It is to learn only one new topic a day. Certainly we ought to do that.

DAILY READINGS.

Wednesday, Dec. 22, Presentation in the Temple, Luke 2: 22-38.
Thursday, Dec. 22, Return to Bethlehem (unrecorded); Visit of the Wise Men, Tom Cochran Wins a Prize.

Tom Cochran is a good judge of bottles and their contents. Everyone knows that, but no ever dreamed that he was a prize winner on guessing at the contents of a bottle. Although it was a foregone conclusion that some Kentuckian would get the prize, the following letter explains itself.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 16, 1904.
Mr. T. H. Cochran, Marion, Ky. Dear
Sir: We beg to advise you that you have been successful in guessing the contents of the large bottle of Amortias Water (the largest bottle in the world)
displayed at our exhibit, in the Liberal Arts Building, at the World's Fair, in this city.

We beg to advise you that you have won the fourth prize, which entitles you to $1.00, check for this amount please find herewith enclosed. We trust that same will be a pleasant surprise to you.

Wishing you a merry Christmas and continued prosperity during the new year, we are, Yours truly,

Very Grateful for Buggy.

Mr. H. M. Jenkins: The judges whom you put in charge of the buggy contest decided for me as my guess was the closest. I am thankful to you and the good old Crittenton Buggy for the handsome buggy and to the fair and impartial gentleman who so found the tickets and will always remember you and Dave Woods and Tom Vandell.

Respectfully,
J. A. CRANES.

Headend Collision at Princeton.

A terrible headend collision occurred at Princeton on the O. V. branch of the C. & O. R. R., last Sunday day, all and besides killing the driver of one of the freight cars, demolished the engine and many of the cars. One freight standing still when the other ran into at a terrific speed. The crews were for their lives but the driver of the train, a Mr. Gilbert, of Poplar Bl.
Mo., was killed. The wreck delayed 33 trains 7 hours. It came in here about 11 o'clock Sunday night.

has charge of one of Stinson Bros' big stores and is succeeding well in the mercantile business.

Dr. G. E. Shively has just completed
a beautiful cottage on the corner of Kevil
and East Wilson avenue and will occupy it soon. The house is as convenient and cozy as it is possible to make one. The location is fortunate, too, for a physician's home.

Frank Conger, the "Sorghum King
of Crittenden county," and also a hustling live stock man, shipped a car load of cattle and sheep to Bourbon stock yards, of Louisville, Monday, and went up on the night train to superintend the sale of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Whitney, of Water Valley, Miss., will arrive Sunday morning to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Dorr. After a short stay here they will go to Bowling Green to visit Mr. Whitney's relatives before returning to their Southern home.

Frank Dorroh, of Crayneville, was in the city Saturday. He received a sample box of apples from Washington Territory sent in by some of our former citizens, who are thriving in the west.
Frank says the apples are fine but old
Crittenden is good enough for him.

G. W. Stone, of Kelsey, has purchased two fine pieces of property here recently.
The Reed land near the bridge on the Salem road, and the Crawford land adjoining it but across the creek. He bought the latter at $12.50 per acre. J.
W. Givens asks $50 for some next to it.

last Sunday and will be a great convenience to the traveling public and business men generally. The present schedule will be to open the office at 1 to 2 o'clock including the general delivery window.
All letter and other mail put in the office before 2 o'clock p. m., will be sent out same evening.

It requires 75 bushels of coal to run
the electric light plant each night.
These short days when dark comes so early the lights are usually turned on at 4 o'clock for the accommodation of merchants, bankers and office men generally and they stay on till 8 o'clock a.
m., which makes a long run of 16 hours
for the two boilers which have a capacity of 150 horsepower. Coal melts in their fire boxes like snow in a furnace.

THE NORMIA CLUB.

The Normia Club has again taken up its year's work. This club has been studying a part of the Chautauquan
Course for several years, and like it better and find it more interesting each year.

The lessons this year embrace a series of nine articles each on "Social Progress in Europe," "A Reading Journey in Belgium and Germany" and German Master Musicians." The Social Progress in Europe begins with an interesting article on "Some Features of the Old Regime, followed by "The Afterglow of the Revolution." Both articles give the reader a clear understanding of this great historical period.

This club meets regularly each Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the residences of the different members; and before the lesson is taken up for discussion, each member gives some item of interest in the way of current events, or anything that is interesting the world today.

The officers for the present year were elected Tuesday afternoon and are as follows: Mrs. W. J. Deboe, president; Mrs. H. A. Haynes, vice president; Miss Ina Woods, secretary.

Those taking the course this year are Messdames J. W. Blue, J. H. Orme, W.
B. Yandell, G. M. Crider, C. S. Nunn,
T. H. Cochran, G. C. Gray, H. K. Woods,
H. A. Haynes, W. J. Deboe, Carrie Maxwell, Misses Lena Woods Neile Walker and Ina Woods.

The Choral Club.

An effort has been made on the part of the music loving people of Marion to secure the services of Prof. Harry E.
Von Tobel, of Henderson, to come to this place and take charge of a "Choral Club." Every person that can sing, or that will try to sing, is asked to join this club and get the benefit of a fine training in music. The club will meet only one night every other week for the present. The Cumberland Presbyterian church has been offered to this club,
and same will be accepted. Those working for the interest of the club desire to say to those who have promised to join that they want to have a meeting sometime during next week to organize and get matters all adjusted before the first coming of Prof. Von Tobel. A further notice will be given them as to when and where they are desired to meet. This is something that should be of much interest to the church choir, especially, as it gives training that all need. The expense of two nights per month will not exceed $1.00 for each person. If a large number will join, this sum can be greatly reduced. Those desiring further information about this can obtain same by calling on Mrs. T. H. Cochran and Miss Nelle Walker. They will be glad to enter your name on the list.

New Ruling Elders.

At the congregational meeting last Sunday two new ruling elders were elected for the Presbyterian church.
Messrs. G. M. Crider and H. K. Woods being the unanimous choice of the church, which is a high and deserving compliment to these gentlemen.

Delightful Bowling Party.

Another bowling party was given Monday night which was enjoyed very much and all the scores hotly contested.
The prize a beautiful medallion, was won by Miss James and Mr. Tucker on a score of 312.

Those present were: Misses Nellie Thomas, Ruby James, Kitty Gray, Martha Davis, of Russellville, Ebba Pickens,
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gilbert. Messrs.
Rob Cook, Kay Kevill, Alvis Stephens,
Henry Haynes, Oil Tucker.

Ladies highest score 131 was made by Miss Ruby James, and for the gents Mr.
Ollie Tucker made 181.

Fruits were served and a most delightful time was spent by all present.

SOUND AT THE CORE.

Despite their Failings, Newspapers Set a High Standard. Accuracy, Independence and Cleanliness.

BY ST. CLAIR M'KELVY, EDITOR OF THE BROOKLYN EAGLE.

[From an article written by request for the Hartford Courant, on the occasion of its one hundred and fortieth birthday.]

None knows better than the newspaper man the faults of the press or the criticisms upon the press. The percentage of errors in newspapers, however, is less than the percentage of it in the speech of people, in their oratory or in their letter writing. Wonder should be that the errors of the press are really so few, considering at what long range it is served, by how many hands it is worked, and how quickly it is required to put forth its product. No equal test is applied to any other form of utterance.

SEED TIME

The experienced farmer has learned that some grains require far different soil than others; some crops need different handling than others. He knows that a great deal depends upon right planting at the right time, and that the soil must be kept enriched. No use of complaining in summer about a mistake made in the spring. Decide before the seed is planted.

The best time to remedy wasting conditions in the human body is before the evil is too deep rooted. At the first evidence of loss of flesh

Scott's Emulsion should be taken immediately. There is nothing that will repair wasted tissue more quickly or replace lost flesh more abundantly than Scott's Emulsion. It nourishes and builds up the body when ordinary foods absolutely fail.

We'll send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

The oration is carefully prepared. The sermon can be a week or a year in the making. The book or review is gradually created. The Judge's charge or the court's decree is based on long settled authorities. The report or the editorials must be created at once and served at once. The large measure of correctness and the small measure of error in them is really extraordinary.

Moreover, they are becoming better all the time. There is a larger ratio in the improvement of journalism than there is in sermon, oratory or jurisprudence, and journalism, with its extended sweep of powers and topics is responsible for some of the improvement in some of those other callings. It has reduced sectarianism in religion, bigotry in medicine and brutality in politics. It has held the mirror up to government and to armies, and it has made them more circumspect than they ever were before. It is the vehicle of public complaints, the stimulus of agitation, the censor of power, and the channel or courier of public opinion.

A comparison of a land with a free press with a land with none or with a press which is but a photograph of government policy, will show the value of newspapers to human happiness, and to human rights. The distinction between truth and accuracy should be borne in mind. Truth is accuracy up to date. Accuracy is truth in final form. Every newspaper aims at truth and approximates accuracy. It corrects its errors promptly and has very few to correct, considering the multitude of subjects with which it has to do.

Too many seemingly conflicting forces of the time powerfully affect journalism. The divisions of political opinion into exponents of each of the parties. As they align men into like groups it is not surprising that they align newspapers also. This is the law of detachment or partisanship in journalism, which tells also in religion and other departments of opinion. An incident is the fact that the newspapers are as well served as governments, or kings or popes. The agents of newspapers share all perils, dare all dangers, and follow or lead wherever any human interest or human cause may call them. They receive no rewards and desire none except the consciousness that they have served their constituency as faithfully as that constituency could be served.

In proportion as the scope and grandeur of presswork are magnified the littleness of the attorneyship theory of journalism becomes or should become apparent. The natural tendency of man to be a fighting animal has yielded to the better role of a reasoning being. The natural tendency of him to live by or under force has yielded to the better conception of him as one who lives by and under law. When this is truly realized by journalism a newspaper will arise from the role of holding a brief for or against either party to the more judicial function of sitting in judgment on all parties.

So long as the results of party contests make newspapers poorer or richer, so long will newspapers be dependent on them and will hold a brief for plunder, and for principle at the same time. It will not be altered until the severance between journalism and government be as complete as between church and state.

For both newspapers and politicians the rule or road of real eminence must be disinterestedness. The politician who desires to do something for the people must be differentiated from the politician who desires the people to do something for him. The one is a statesman; the other is liable to be a demagogue. The newspaper that desires through a party to do something for the state or nation must be differentiated from the one that wants to support a party merely that the party may do something for it. The one will be censor and leader; the other will be organ and mendicant.

There never was a time when journalism was at a higher watermark in the United States than now. The great bulk of American journalism is sound to the core. It is freer from uncleanness, from scurrility, and from biased reporting than it ever was before. It is not nearly so good as it ought to be and as it will be but it is better than it was in the past and it is becoming better every year. The journalism of the cities is as a rule fair, and it is also nearly always independent of servility to political organizations. The journalism of some great western cities is ahead of that of some great eastern, and southern cities in this respect. The news side is on the whole better than the editorial side, in being impartial and just.

Editors everywhere have not yet learned that their personality is interesting and attractive only for the reasons that make that of other men so. If legal, medical or theological disputants, instead of advancing arguments for their cause, engaged in personal quarrels and in exchange of personal abuse, they would be rated as low fellows and poor advocates. The law of rating is the same for journalistic champions. Their personal abuse of one another is not interesting to their readers or helpful to their party. The duty of being gentlemen is not one from which they are exempt. The penalty of not being one from which they can not escape. The few who encourage them to unseemly abuse of one another are the weaker representatives of the least remunerative and the least respectable community. This is getting to be so well understood that even the ruffians or scallawags of the press are assuming a restraint that irks and misfits them and are paying to refinement the thrifty homage of a shrewd counterfeit.

ABOUT APPOINTMENTS.

Washington, Dec. 12.—President Roosevelt has informed a prominent Kentucky Republican that he does not intend to appoint postmasters in the home towns of congressmen and senators who are personally objectionable to the President. The President declared the rule applied to the South as well as to the North, and to Democrats as well as Republicans. All appointments will, of course, be good Republicans, but must be acceptable to the members and senators. This policy came as good news to the Kentuckians, who appreciate the President's position.

Head About to Burst From Severe Bilious Attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and felt like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I took a dose of them after supper and the next day felt like a new man and have been feeling happy ever since," says Mr. J. W. Smith, of Joliff, Texas. Biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation: these tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. For sale by Woods & Orme druggists.

For the Young Housewife.

The young housekeeper will be interested in a series of papers on "The Making of a Housewife," beginning in the January number of The Delineator, in which useful housewife knowledge is embodied in such entertaining form that one is liable to forget that she is studying domestic matters; other topics in the same number that will appeal to the housekeeper are illustrated center pieces for New Year's Day and beverages for the holidays attractively served, cakes for New Year's gifts, also illustrated, and a number of receipts for novel refreshments for the holiday season.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

The Grasshopper's Sign

Who would think that anybody had a better right to play around in the bright green fields than the grasshopper? And yet when he made his appearance in the meadow the other day he was confronted with a sign which read:

KEEP OFF
THE GRASS.

"Now, who could have put up that sign?" meditated the grasshopper, as he sat on a blade of grass and thought. "I am sure it must have been Mr. Butterfly," he continued, "because he doesn't like me at all. But I can't keep off the grass. This is my home, and I am not able to climb trees or live in the water.

HE SAT ON A BLADE OF GRASS AND THOUGHT.

"But there's that sign," he added; "what am I to do about that? I suppose the best thing is to use it in some way to keep the butterflies from worrying me any more."

So off he went to a paint shop and got a bucket of paint and a brush. Then he returned to the field where the sign stood, and at the bottom of it he painted these words, "Hopper's Flowers."

And now the sign was altogether different, for it read:

GRASSHOPPER'S FLOWERS.

When the butterflies came along that way and read the new sign and saw Mr. Grasshopper marching about the field with a big club in his hands they decided that it would not be wise for them to stay around there any longer, and they had to go to another meadow to find flowers to feed upon.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

HE WOULD BE IN GOOD FORM

It all came about through Dick Trigger's being nearsighted and deaf by reason of having had scarlet fever. It was a close call for Mr. Rabbit, but his wit saved him.

Dick had tracked him to the fence, when Mr. Rabbit, by a wily move, had doubled in his tracks and got behind Dick's back. There he sat, laying his plans for a bold break from cover, when Towser hove in sight between him and liberty.

Behind him Dick anxiously watched; in front Towser, carrying his determined look with him. Mr. Rabbit saw himself entrapped. "Only my wits can save me," he thought. "I must be brave. Good morning," said he pleasantly, seating himself on his hind legs. Towser growled something that was not understood.

"YOU'RE NOT A RABBIT DOG."

"Hunting?" asked Mr. Rabbit. "Yes, idiot," growled the dog.

"What?" continued Bunny. "Rabbits, of course. What d'yer think?"

"Rabbits?" asked Bunny curiously. "That's strange."

"Why strange?" "Because you're not a rabbit dog. Now, if I was in your place I wouldn't bother with such small game. As I size you up, my friend, I perceive you to be a bulldog. Am I correct?"

"That's what," said Towser. "Then, my dear fellow, it's exceedingly bad form, don't you know, to say the least, for a dog born to master the noble bull to be seen in company of cottontail rabbits."

"That's so," thought Towser. "My great-grandfather was an Irish prince. It'll never do to break good form."

And off he trotted, mumbling; hadn't thought of that. Really hadn't.

Mr. Bunny made tracks to woods.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Bill Nye's Cow.

Bill Nye, the humorist, once had a cow to sell and advertised her as follows:

"Owing to my ill health I will sell at my residence, in township 19, range 18, according to the government's survey, one plush raspberry cow, aged eight years. She is of undoubted courage and gives milk frequently. To a man who does not fear death in any form she would be a great boon. She is very much attached to her present home with a stay chain, but she will be sold to any one who will agree to treat her right. She is one-fourth Shorthorn and three-quarters hyena. I will also throw in a double barrel shotgun, which goes with her. In May she usually goes away for a week or two and returns with a tall red calf with wobbly legs. Her name is Rose. I would rather sell her to a nonresident."

The Hen Did Her Best.

A truthful farmer relates that he put a porcelain egg in the nest of a hen and found that the eggs she laid were of increased size. Then he put a goose egg in the nest. The hen laid an egg just as large. He was so pleased with the scheme that he put a whitewashed football in the nest. When he went the next time to search for eggs he found one as big as a football, but no hen in sight. Securing the egg, he saw engraved on it by hen photomicrography these words, "I'm no ostrich, but I've done my best." Later he found the hen in side the egg.

She Gave Him the Hint.

Mother—I can't have that young man staying here so late at night. You must give him a hint of some kind. Daughter (in the evening)—I am very much afraid something will happen to you on the streets at night. You must be more careful of yourself and not be out so late. If anything should happen to you I'd—I'd die. (They are engaged.)

Martial Amenities.

"My dear," said the learned man, "I think that I shall write a dictionary." "What for?" asked his wife. "Then I can at least get a word in here and there."—Cleveland Leader.

Equality of Man the Inspiring Thought of the Ages

By MICHAEL J. JORDAN,
Former President of the Irish Charitable Society.

IT HAS been said that the only reality is an idea. Whether this is true or not, it is safe to say that no reality has more strongly impressed itself upon the minds of reformers in all ages, and, I think, been fraught with more benefit to the human species than this idea of equality, when properly understood.

Doubtless there are many good Americans who believe that this principle, as set out in the declaration of independence, was the first proclamation of the equality of man, that it had never been previously asserted, and that the signers of the declaration were its first political sponsors. It may be noted in passing how few accurately quote the words of the declaration—"all men are created equal," and also that the words of the constitution of Massachusetts, embodying a similar idea, are not the same—"All men are born free and equal."

To understand the meaning of the words it will be necessary to glance at their origin. Herodotus tells us the government of the many has the most beautiful name of all—in Greek, "economy," or equality. Seneca evidently had before him the idea of similarity of rights when he said: "The chief part of equity is equality." But it was from the old Stoic philosophers that the Roman lawyers took the idea and declared: "Omnes homines natura aequales sunt"—all men by nature are equal. This was strictly a principle to be followed in the administration of law. The law should make no distinction between men of any race or clime. The idea was well known in later days in Europe and probably influenced Louis X. of France in the preamble to his decree emancipating the serfs, as may be judged by these strong words: "Whereas, according to natural law, everybody ought to be free." Rousseau, and the French philosophers known as the encyclopedists, for the purpose of rectifying the social and legal status of the great masses of the French people, asserted the equal rights of all men. This is the meaning of equality as contained in the great baptismal vow of the American nation—the declaration of independence.

It does not, of course, mean that all men are created equal in the sense that their taste, color, height and weight are equal. It does not mean that the material wealth of one man should not be greater than that of another. It simply means, as its history clearly implies—for there is no doubt that the idea came to America from the French philosophers to whom I referred—that all men are equal before the law. In the former sense Balzac well says: "Equality may be a beautiful theory, no one yet has seen it an accomplished fact." In the latter sense it is, according to Sir Henry Maine, a principle "which has most thoroughly leavened modern opinion, and which promises to modify most deeply the constitution of societies and the policies of states." In this sense it has made America.

A land where girl with friend or foe,
A man may speak the thing he will.

—Michael J. Jordan

Incompetent Teachers

By PROF. CAMILLO VON KLENZE,
OF GERMANY.

The teachers are really charming fellows and it would be a pity to turn them out, but they are essentially bad.

The Americans are trying unsuccessfully to ape German methods. The German boy is trained in the gymnasium and properly fitted to take up university work, while the average American boy is poorly prepared to do university work when he is admitted to the university. Few American boys know what they want to study or why they want to study it when they go to college.

Not so in Germany. There the boy fits himself to take up a certain university work. When the American boy goes to college and the American method of university teaching is applied it fails to work.

The trouble is that the Americans have their college and university methods mixed and few of the teachers know which method to apply or how to apply it. Comparatively few men of the first intellectual class are going through college. Our students don't know exactly what they are going to college for. They don't know what modern education means. We turn out hundreds of "Ph. D's" who take their "Ph. D's" simply to get a job. They ask for the doctor's dissertation as they would for a glass of water. Then they plod through it and when it is finished they leave this field for life, if employment in some other field presents itself. Some have done a little work in a little field and are absolutely good for nothing else. They feel a claim to greatness because they have plodded over their doctor's thesis and have been given the hood.

American university teachers do not keep in touch with the trend of things. They bottle themselves up in their specialties and stay there.

Children Should Be Heard

By MISS M. N. VAN VLIET.

Discipline and development of child nature the things which will be received to good. "Children should be heard as well as seen."

Children have their rights in the home as well as father and mother. One of these rights is to be heard. To be constantly suppressing the impulse of the child to give expression to its thoughts retards mental development, prevents the cultivation of the faculty of thinking clearly and speaking concisely and fluently, and destroys that poise and self-reliance and independence of thought which are so essential in the grown man or woman. We cannot expect that the adult is going to possess these desirable qualifications, if for the first 15 years of his life he has known nothing but repression and suppression, and his opinions have been scorned as of no weight or value.

It is just as impolite and shows just as bad breeding to cut off your child in conversation as to cut off your visitor. And you cannot expect that your child will have respect for your conversation and opinions, if you do not show like consideration for its conversation and opinions, when honestly expressed. Let the children be heard!

It is time we outgrew the old adage "Children should be seen and not heard." It is justice to the child and in harmony with the most approved modern methods.

American Field Fence the Best.

The people of Crittenden county, have by their action, rendered judgment that the American Field Fence is the best fence on earth.

Our reason for saying this is that they have bought more than twice as much of American Field Fence this season than they have of all other fences combined.

More assertions and empty guarantees mean but little to the farmer up-to-date farmer of Crittenden county. He takes the goods and passes his judgment upon their merits. We are now selling our sixth out load this year. Remember we keep a large supply on hand constantly.

MINING MATTERS.

"The Mineral Industry, Vol. XII," the annual publication of the Engineering and Mining Journal, which is just out, contains a number of articles of interest to the mining men of the district, among which are the articles on Zinc, Lead, Fluorspar and Barytes, with statistics of their production for 1903. One of the articles of special interest, perhaps, is the one on the "Uses and Technology of Fluorspar," by F. Julius Fohs, of this city. The subjects treated of in this article are Fluor Spar in Metallurgy; Fluor Spar in the Manufacture of Glass; Application of Fluorspar to the Manufacture of Enamels, Glasses, and Fireproof ware; Fluorspar for Ornamental purposes.

We copy the following from the Elizabethtown, Ill., Independent-Star:

The people of lower Gallatin and Harlin have long wanted a railroad and have for years been trying to interest some road to extend their lines through this county. They have at last got down to business and organized a company themselves with a capital of one million dollars. The officers and boards of directors are:

Col W. H. Swift, of St. Louis, President; S. G. McWade, of Elizabethtown, Vice President; Wm. A. Peoples, of Shawneetown, Treasurer; Geo. Hanson, of Shawneetown, Secretary; S. C. Martin, of St. Louis, Chief Engineer; E. Eberwine, M. E. Lambert, Wm. H. Glover, of Shawneetown and J. Q. A. Laddbetter of Shawneetown.

The new road will start at Shawneetown and terminate at the river or at near Rosi Claire and will be about thirty two miles in length.

As now surveyed the road crosses this town about three miles but the surveyor has promised to look over the route by here and with the proper effort by our people it will come here.
